PLAY CONTESTPrize of $100 Will Be Given for Best Play Which Will Be Selected by Committee of Readers

FOWLER IS IN CHARGE

Frank Fowler, director of the Guignol theatre, has announced a play contest, prizes for which will include a week's production by the Guignol players, beginning February 6, 1933; a radio production over WHAS; and one hundred dollars in cash. The play must reach the Guignol theatre on or before December 15, 1932.

Rules for the contest are as follows:

"Any resident or former resident of Kentucky may submit one or more manuscripts. If the author is not a resident of Kentucky at the time his play is submitted, he shall show proof of his having been resident of Kentucky. Plays may be written in collaboration.

"Manuscripts must be typed on one side of the sheet only, and must constitute a full-length play (approximately two hours' playing time).

"In submitting a play, the author must guarantee that his play has never been produced professionally, non-professionally, or over the radio. It shall be entirely original.

"There are no restrictions concerning the type of plays submitted, whether comedy, tragedy, drama, fantasy, farce, folk lore, or mystery, the size of the cast, costuming, or staging.

(Note: However, in considering plays of equal merit, the one presenting the least number of production problems shall be favored.)

"All manuscripts must reach Frank Fowler, Director, Guignol theatre, Euclid avenue, Lexington, Ky., on or before December 15, 1932, and must be accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the author's name, address, and return postage.

"A committee of play readers shall judge all manuscripts, and the final decision shall rest with Mr. Fowler."

Kentucky Bandmen
Will Meet Saturday

The first meeting of the Kentucky Band Directors Association will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in Memorial hall. The meeting will be opened by E. G. Sulzer, director of the university band, who is president of the association.

The first part of the meeting will be a business session in which a tentative band law will be considered for approval. A standard system of band credits is to be discussed and perhaps approved.

Mr. Gibbons, a member of the organization, has been editing The Kentucky Bandman, a periodical, and is expected to talk on his work with the publication.

A picked group of about 20 players from the university band will play marches which are the favorites of the various band masters present. These marches will be directed by the member who has submitted them, and he will give his interpretation of how it ought to be played. Much is expected to be gained by this action, as the assembled directors will see methods other than their own.

Students are invited to attend this meeting, and also band directors who are not members of this organization.

Lady, We Salute
You!

If eligibility requirements of R. O. T. C. co-ed sponsors are fruitful, certain army officers must brush up their military tactics in order to escape ambush today when they select the honorary officers.

Sponsor requirements released Friday by the military department with either facetiousness or martial finesse demand that the aspirant be beautiful, the Kentuckian ideal; have an attractive smile, to soothe the severity of war department inspectors; have grace and charm, and, most important, be able to place her left foot forward at the proper time.

Additional attributes are that she be an admirer of football heroes, wear silk hose or none at all, short skirts, no corset, and negligible unmentionables. She must have short hair, use paint and powder, smoke, drink cocktails, play bridge, drive her own car, and have a pekinese dog.

The eight applicants are: Bess Warren, Whitlock Fennell, Marjorie Mitchell, Anna Mae Lewis, Dorothy Compton, Myrtle McCoy, Mary K. Montgomery, and Billie Maddox. From this group will be selected the honorary cadet colonel, a major, and a captain.

Woman's Club
Aids Y.W.C.A.
Furnish HomeBuilding Will Be Ready For Occupancy Within
Three Weeks

The announcement that the Woman's Club of the university has offered to assist in the furnishing of the Women's building, formerly the home of Prof. W. K. Patterson, which will be opened for use in about three weeks, was made at a committee meeting of the Woman's building held last Tuesday. The Board of Control of the women's residence halls has consented to complete the furnishing with furniture from Smith hall which is not in use this year.

Plans were made by the building committee to divide the house into two parts. The first floor will be devoted to the "common" rooms. These include: the Y. W. C. A. club-room; the office of Miss Augusta Roberts, Y. W. C. A. secretary; a lounge room for all women; and a kitchenette for the use of the town girls at noon and for teas.

On the second floor of the building each woman's organization will be assigned a room; it will be necessary to have three organizations share one room, but each will have a place for their files and other property. One room will be completely furnished with cots for resting during the day.

Next week the building committee will make a complete survey of the house and determine just what furnishings will be needed. Faculty members of the committee are Mrs. F. L. McVey, Mrs. Wayland Rhoads, Mrs. Ralph Maxon, Miss Stattle Erickson, Miss Lillian Lindenberger, Miss Augusta Roberts, and Miss Sarah Blanding; student members are Misses Lois Neal, president of the Women's Administrative council; Hazel Nollan, and Nell Montgomery.

This is the first time a project of this sort has been undertaken by the women of the campus. Other larger universities maintain as a part of their regular equipment a women's building where co-ed organizations may meet and plan their campus activities.

Although the plans for a women's building were laid only recently the occupancy of the structure will be a matter of only a few weeks.

CHILD WELFARE
GROUP TO MEETKentucky White House Conference
Will Be Held Under Supervision of President
McVey and Prof. Taylor

In November, 1930, the first White House conference on the medical, social, and educational welfare of children was held in Washington, D. C. Since that time state White House conferences have been held in most of the state of the Union. Kentucky will hold its first state White House conference on the university campus October 28 and 29. This conference is being planned under direction of Pres. Frank L. McVey with Prof. William S. Taylor serving as chairman of the program.

Three-act-finding committees will report at that time—committees on education, on medical welfare, and on social welfare. These committees have been engaged in careful research for more than a year in order to gather the data that will be most helpful in promoting the medical, social and educational welfare in Kentucky.

Dr. Jesse E. Adams, head of the department of philosophy of education and director of the summer session at the university, is chairman of the committee on education.

Bud Davidson Is Out of Game
As Wildcats Prep for SewaneeFOWLER CASTS
GUIGNOL OPENER"Once in a Lifetime" is Roaring
Comedy, with Fast Moving Action, and Clever Lines

HAS ALL-STAR CAST

For "Once in a Lifetime," Guignol's initial play for this season, which will open Monday, October 24 for a week's run, Director Fowler has chosen an almost entire all-star cast. Of the 36 characters in the play, such veterans as Marion Galloway, Katherine Davis, Dunster Foster Pettit, Marguerite McLaughlin, Minna Bloomfield, Emily Hardin, Lolo Robinson, R. D. McIntyre, Woodson Knight, George White Fithian, and Wayne Haffner, will take parts.

The female lead, May Daniels, will be portrayed by Marion Galloway as a hardened and rather cynical vaudeville trouper. The second female lead, Susan Walker, a somewhat bewildered girl who is trying to crash into the movies, will be played by Emily Hardin. R. D. McIntyre, as George Lewis, the very dumb member of the vaudeville trio, consisting of May, George, and Jerry, will have the leading male part. Jerry Hyland, the energetic "business manager" of the trio, the second lead, will be done by Woodson Knight.

The play is a roaring comedy from start to finish, with fast moving action and clever lines. There is not a dull spot in the entire three acts from the time that May, George and Jerry decide to break loose from the vaudeville act and migrate to Hollywood to teach "talkie" embryos to talk, until they have had their "fling" in the cinema world. The play is a delightful satire on the talking pictures, showing the people of that industry as they appear to the average person.

The cast follows: May, Marion Galloway; George, R. D. McIntyre; Jerry, Woodson Knight; Susan, Emily Hardin; Helen Hobart; Marguerite McLaughlin; Porter, Roscoe Stephens; Coat check girl, Ruth Wehle; Cigarette girl, Frances Sargent; Florabel, Katherine Davis.

Laurence Vail, Carl Stutsman; Fulton, Robert O'Dear, Kammerling; Wilden Thomas; First electrician, M. E. Potter; Second electrician, J. B. Wells; Mr. Flick, Wayne Haffner; Sixth Bridesmaid, Mary King Montgomery; Miss Newton, Martha Coleman Johnson; Bishop, Bill Watkins; Sullivan and Biographer, Herbert Dunning; Weiskopf, Alan Ashby; Maid, Melvina Ralph.

One part, the Second Page, has not yet been cast.

Election of Officers
Is Held By W.S.G.A.

The Women's Self Governing Association elected Virginia Lee Pulliam secretary of their organization, and Barbara Alexander, treasurer, in an election that was held in the Y.W.C.A. room in the basement of the Administration building on Wednesday afternoon. All the girls of the university were asked to vote.

Second SuKy Pep Rally Will Be Held at 9:30 Tonight at Strand
Theater; Price Will Be Same

The same prices, the same place, and the same pep will prevail at 9:30 Friday evening at the Strand theater when SuKy circle stages the second band benefit show. The downtown show house will donate the picture and the auditorium and the entire proceeds will be given to the university pep group.

Dean Blanding has extended the bed time limit for the co-eds, and the cause of the college boys' blues will be allowed to roam the streets of Lexington (in the Strand) until the wee hours of approximately 11:30 p. m. Two for two bits will remain the price and a capacity house is expected. No cheer leaders will be provided at this meeting but an orchestra will be obtained to make the well known welkin ring.

On Saturday when the ancient foes of the Cats trot out on Stoll field they will be greeted by the first organized cheering section ever formed by university students. This section will be reserved on the south side of the stadium and special reserved seat tickets will be issued to university students only. No one will be admitted to this section, according to Daddy Boles, unless they present this ticket.

And this one comes from the College of Agriculture. One cautious home economies major, inmate of Boyd hall, following the orders of her roommate, locked their room door the other day before they went to class. On returning, they found the door wide open. Consternation reigned until they discovered that the more cautious one had neglected to shut the door before her obedient roommate turned the key in the lock.

STROLLERS WILL HOLD TRYOUTSManuscripts for Trial Plays
Have Been Ordered:
Will Be In Library

TO BE IN RESERVE ROOM

Manuscripts for Stroller try-out plays have been ordered, and announcements will be made the next week of the time try-outs will be held.

The manuscripts, as soon as they arrive, will be placed in the reserve room of the library, and aspirants may find them there. Persons wishing to come out for Strollers should call Winston Ardery, president of the organization at the Phi Delta Theta house to make appointments for the hearing of the play.

The hearing committee composed of Anne Thomas Denton, Georgian Weedon, Clarence Yeager, Hugh Adcock, and Winston Ardery as chairman, has just been announced by the president. The committee will hear all of the try-outs, and will select the best Stroller eligible, and also will select the three best plays to be presented at the annual Amateur Night performance.

Plans for Amateur Night are now being made, and tentative plans for the presentation of cups to the best boy and girl performer are also under consideration.

The try-out plays will be short, two part plays, one for two girls, one for two boys, and two having a complement of one of each sex. This gives a wide range from which the aspirants may select the one most suited to themselves.

The try-outs probably will be held in the Training school auditorium, and a small fee will be charged each of the applicants. Ardery calls attention of those who wish to make Strollers that only persons who are Stroller eligibles will be used in the spring production. A special effort will be made to get Stroller actives to take part.

A report on organization finances was given by Manning Hollingsworth, business manager, at the first meeting of the group last Tuesday. Plans for the Stroller parade in the 1933 Kentuckian constituted most of the discussion.

Kentuckian Business
Staff Has Vacancies

Appointments of assistants to the business staff of the Kentuckian, university annual, have not yet been made, according to John Ewing, business manager of the publication. Work in this department has been delayed, but positions are still open.

Any student desiring work on the staff is requested to see John Ewing at once.

TO PLAY OTHER GUARDEach of Backfield Substitutes Causes Coaches To Be Uneasy

Without the services of their captain, O. L. "Bud" Davidson, who was called to his home in Evansville, Ind., because of the illness of his brother, the Wildcats face the Sewanee Tigers tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Stoll field, in their second game of the season.

This blow following on top of the announcement of the ineffectibility of Jean and Nicholson, last week, added to the already multitudinous troubles of Head Coach Harry Gamage. Of the four dependable guards in the Big Blue camp, only two are available for action Saturday, as Gibson, a veteran from last season, suffered an injured knee in the scrimmage Wednesday and will probably see no service this week. With Davidson out, John Drury will be shifted to guard, but just who will fill the other guard position is still doubtful. Blevins, "Windy" Aldridge, and Darnaby are the candidates for the job, but "Windy" has a bad hand and may not get the starting call. He is certain to see considerable service before the melee is concluded.

Drury's tackle position will be filled by "Honus" Wagner, who has showed up well in the scrimmages of the past week and is big enough to make his presence felt by the opposing team. George "Husky" Skinner, who played a sterling game against V. M. I. last week, will be at the other tackle. And is George tough? Ask V. M. I.

In spite of several irritating little injuries, "Walrus" Seale will probably be out there tomorrow in his accustomed place in the center of the line. Frank's 230 pounds will be valuable because of the lack of big men in the forward tomorrow. Since Seale is ailing, Bill Luther, Seale's capable understudy, probably will see much service.

"Dutch" Kreuter, star end, who has been out of the game for two weeks with a back injury, although he has returned to the squad, is still a bit under the weather and may not get to participate in the game tomorrow. At the flanks we have "Big Joe" Rupert and Tate Duff, the boys who played most of the opening game at the terminals. Duff, who suffered a broken smeller last Saturday is in good condition, though still a bit mishapen. Understudies for these boys are "Red" Parrish and O. B. Murphy, who are good offensive players as they demonstrated their last time out.

The backfield is still in a slightly

REEVES IS HEAD
OF LIBERAL CLUBU. K. Liberals Form Thomas-for-President Club; 50 are Present at First Meeting of Group

Nearly 50 students attended the first meeting of a liberal political club for the purpose of supporting Norman H. Thomas for president of the United States held at McVey hall Wednesday night.

H. Clyde Reeves, junior in the college of Education was elected chairman of the organization which will hold weekly meetings until the November election. Other officers who were chosen are John St. John, secretary; and Bill Baker, treasurer. Reeves, besides being president of the local organization, is regional chairman of university Thomas-for-President clubs in West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. Elizabeth Franklin, of Fairmont Teachers College, West Virginia, heads their state organization, while John St. John is Kentucky state organizer.

Richard Weaver, graduate student, is secretary of the Lexington Socialist party and will assist the campus organization in their work. It is planned to make a survey of the campus for views on the coming election and to conduct a campaign for Norman Thomas at the university. A mass meeting of all students of Kentucky universities and colleges having organized Thomas-for-President clubs may also be held here.

Sidney Schell, graduate of '32, is now on a speaking tour through colleges of the Middle West. It is hoped to bring him back for a rally on the campus. John T. Scopes, '32 is a candidate on the Socialist platform, for congress.

The second meeting of the organization will be held at room 111, McVey hall on Thursday, October 6 at 7:30, at which time the organization will make further plans.

Kampus
Kernels

According to latest figures of the Dean, Prof. T. T. Jones, there are 211 students enrolled in the Graduate school. They expect the final registration to come up to 250.

The Women's Athletic association will hold archery practice at 3 p. m. and hockey at 4 p. m., Tuesday on the women's athletic field in the rear of Patterson hall. Any co-ed, who desires, may tryout for the teams.

The Women's Athletic council will hold its first meeting of the year at 4 p. m. Monday in Miss Averill's office. Clara Margaret Forte announces that plans for the ensuing year are to be discussed.

It is not generally known, but the pretty bouquet that our band sponsor, Elizabeth Jones, wears is supplied fresh weekly by the Honaker Floral company. Yes, there are people who notice that the beautiful blonde has a bouquet.

John Kane, Kentuckian editor, announces that photographers will be in the gymnasium until next Wednesday in order that the new sorority pledges may have their pictures made for the annual.

The executive committee of Pan-Politikon will meet at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in room 52 McVey hall. Appointments to the various colleges will be made at that time.

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the news room of the Kernel in McVey hall. Kampus Kat plans will be made at that time. All members are urged to be present at this meeting.

There will be a special meeting of Strollers in the little theater of White hall at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. It will be necessary for all active members to be present.

THE NATIONAL ELEC-TION AND STUDENT
VOTERS

This year, more than any of the yester-generations, the student body of the university should be interested in the forthcoming national election, Tuesday, November 8. Now is the time when the educated vote should be most pronounced in the selection of a President and a Congress because the educated vote should know the best remedy for the present economic situation.

Enthusiasm is at a high pitch among the general public as to the outcome. What with the various polls being taken by leading newspapers and prominent magazines and the campaign under way with full speed ahead, a pre-election outlook is being obtained. It is up to the individual students to study the party platforms; compare the candidates as to respective abilities and records; choose that party which appears to present the most constructive plan for better government and the handling of a strained economic situation. Having chosen his standard bearer, the student should do all that is possible to forward that interest.

In this country, where no law limits the privileges of voting save under-age, the loss of citizenship, or insanity, a great many persons bailot who really know little or nothing about government. The mass is not capable of intellectual choice. Politicians and taboos sheets form the opinions and issues, present them to the people, and the latter accept.

Here the educated vote, coming to the fore with each succeeding year, might play a Messiah role.
The intelligent vote in mass bailot-ing is far in the minority. But it can help to regulate conditions and make overtures toward better national government by unbiased research into party platforms. The educated vote will emerge from the study with the party that has the best potentiality; the intelligent group can form and mould its opinions and proffer them to the people. The mass will follow a leader.

Without regard as to party affiliations, party ideals and whatnot, every student of the University of Kentucky who is of legal age should make use of his privilege of voting November 8. The college vote is an educated vote.

Bailot on election day—the nation needs your opinion.

TIME AND TIDE

Undoubtedly, there are only a few persons who are not acquainted with the well-worn axiom, "Time and tide wait for no man," and those to whom it is unfamiliar know well its application.

Its significance can be taken to heart by college students—upperclassmen as well as freshmen—for it warns them that college credits and degrees aren't handed to students like free lemonade at a church social. It's a sorry collegian who finds too late that he has frittered away his college year, and he soon learns that a last minute cramming is like last minute Christmas shopping—unsatisfactory.

There is another proverb which runs "A good horse has no need of a spur." Newcomers in college are expected to be "good horses."

No one is going to urge them to study. It is their own responsibility.
The wise ones start with a firm foundation. They work each assignment as carefully as a good bricklayer places each brick. They realize they are the architects of their own fortunes. They beat time and tide at their own game.

HAIL TO THE QUEEN!

With outstretched hands filled with gypsy-lit leaves and glory of goldenrod we joyously hail the returning of October's bright blue weather. The hard luster of the summer sun is dead; the merciless heat of August is sleeping, and we are suspended in the midst of a world of waiting. More feeling than knowing—scarcely understanding but exquisitely aware that somewhere, in the high bright arch of heaven, in the still mellow sunshine roundabout, in the world that men's intelligence cannot taint, the miracle of Autumn is happening.
It is performed annually, yet annually it comes as an experience wonderfully new, embroidered still in age-old, impenetrable mystery.

Throughout the year we are inwardly aware of the deep-seated preparations that are being made for this glorious consummation of earth's achievement; when we are actually face to face with the realization of these preparations we are again full to running over with the awe it inspires.

For a little while we are blessed belings enjoying the attributes of the gods as we witness this miracle.
A little while, and it is gone—gone as it has come, mysteriously, silently, unknowably, leaving use with the feeling that we have been allowed to witness something too hallowed for human eyes.

We cannot fathom this miracle of Autumn; we can only stand uncovered in the Presence and glory in its glory while it is here. Tomorrow it will pass on.

ANTICS AND ATTITUDES

Dear Editor:

I am only a Freshman in the University, but Saturday's was not my first game. During the course of my more or less hectic high school career, I have been privileged to witness some fifteen football games in which the Wildcat squad took part. Of this sum total of sixteen or thereabouts, I can say without hesitation, that the game that I enjoyed least of all was the one played Saturday with V. M. I.

College football is a beautiful, a dignified game. It is observed from a distance, and the players do not appear to one's consciousness as tattered, dirty-faced, and weary individuals, as do most high school players, but rather as figures (as on a chess board) that move back and forth without apparent effort.
There is a majesty about such a game.

Saturday was a perfect day. The huge stadium, the music of the "Best Band in Dixie," the trim uniformed figures warming-up on the field, the arrival of the white-clad referees, all combined to form a perfect setting for an afternoon's sport. Then, suddenly upon this scene burst two or three solledlooking urehins, who dashed in and out among the players, chased by sundry officials. Their attempt to secure free entrance was, unfortunately, successful, and their comrades outside the gates, emboldened by this, burst through also and dashed out on the field. Some were caught and led protesting away;

others had to be bludgeoned by the gate-keepers before they could be taken out; and still others, successful in their attempts to elude
"the long arm of the law," hindered the officials in the discharge of their duty.

After about fifteen minutes of this, during which fights had occurred in all parts of the field, the opening whistle sounded, and sent all the participants in this ludicerous performance scurrying to find seats. All during the first half, attention was distracted from the rather slow game by the antics of these unwanted guests. When the half was called, and the regular players left the field, a swarm of humanity, the like of which is seen only in the slum sections of some large city, descended and took possession of the field. Then the crime of all crimes occurred. Kentuckians broke the law of hospitality, so sacred to all true Southerners. In vain did the Cadet subs attempt between-halves practice. In every direction "les cnfomts terrible" mimicked the plays of the foregoing half. Our guests literally stumbled over the prostrate forms of dirty little boys, of negroes, and of some few representatives of the weaker sex. Under such conditions no practice was possible. They were our guests; according to the law of hospitality they should have been given our best. Instead we gave them our worst—and we call ourselves Kentuckians! What an impression for the Virginians to take home!

When I entered the University I

the University of Kentucky Football field—not a playground for all the riff-raff of Lexington and the surrounding communities.

Sorority Night-Club
Alpha Delta Theta entertained new girls of the university Tuesday afternoon with a "night-club" party. Specialty numbers were given by Miss Marjorie Powell, tap-dancer and Misses Dorothy Strother and Marianna Lancaster, soloists, who presented an interesting floor show. The music for the occasion was furnished by Smith's orchestra. Decorations were carried out in the sorority's colors, and gayly colored balloons, confetti, and serpentine added to the festive scene. After the show, refreshments were served.

Wednesday afternoon, the sorority girls and their guests motored to interesting places in and about Lexington. Later they returned to the chapter house on Limestone for afternoon tea.

A bridge tea was given Thursday afternoon in the red room of the Lafayette hotel.

Tri-Delt Parties

Tuesday afternoon Delta Rho chapter of Delta Delta Delta gave a lovely bridge tea from three to six in the red room of the Lafayette hotel. Ten tables were in play. Afterwards a delicious salad course was served.

Yesterday afternoon members of the active chapter gave a treasure hunt at the Iroquois Hunt club for their rushees. The treasure was a lovely silk sport scarf. A lighted pirate ship and lighthouse decorated the table. After the treasure hunt delightful refreshments were served.

The hostesses were Misses Alice Lang, Virginia Brown, Louise Johnson, Anna May Lewis, Anne Hilton Carter, Evelyn Merrill, Virginia Pulliam, Marjorie Felber, Rosemary Belch, Helen Morrison, Ruth Peak, Elizabeth Whitney, Peggy Backus, Dorothy Littleton, Mary Stewart Blackwell, Elizabeth Snowden, Virginia Keen Young, Anne Preston, Isabelle Preston, and Margaret Walker. Members of the alumni present were Misses Amelia King, Nancy Jones, Kitty Conroy, Jo Wiell and Millie Nelson. Mesdames J. A. Estes, William Brock, Jr., J. H. Bailey and Paul McBrayer.

Alpha Xi Delta

Tuesday afternoon, Alpha Xi Delta entertained with a bridge at the Spinning Wheel tearoom. The rooms were decorated with garden flowers, and partners for the game were chosen by the unique scheme of matching cut-out pictures. After the bridge, refreshments were served.

The sorority planned a gypsy party for Wednesday, with Madam Doyle, crystal gazer, telling the fortunes of the guests.

The hostesses were attractively dressed in gypsy costumes, and the chapter house was beautifully decorated in a gypsy-like manner. During the serving of refreshments, a musical program was given by some of the sorority girls.

Thursday afternoon, the chapter entertained with a cabaret party at the Lafayette hotel. Music was furnished by an orchestra.

Novel "Dog" Party

The Zeta Tau Alpha sorority has carried out an enjoyable week's calendar of entertainments arranged to honor its rushees. Monday's date hours were taken up by tours of the city, followed by refreshments at the chapter house.

For Tuesday afternoon, members of the Greek letter order arranged an original type of bridge party, known as a "dog party." China dogs, stuffed dogs, dogs of all types and sizes were grouped around the room. Tallies, wall pictures, bribe-bone, and door steps were of canine type. Prize for high score at bridge was a box of handkerchiefs stamped with miniature dogs. Refreshments congruous with the entertainment were hot dogs and potato salad.

Wednesday afternoon the sorority held open house for its rushees. A "Dixie Party" was given Thursday afternoon. Chapter members with their rushees motored to Bryan Station Springs where a weiner roast was enjoyed by all. About 15 guests were present.

Alpha Gamma Delta Parties

Members of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority entertained their rushees Tuesday afternoon with a delightful treasure hunt which led them out the Richmond road as far as the river then back to the chapter house where the treasure was found. Delicious ices and cakes were served.

Yesterday afternoon the rushees were entertained with a lovely ceremonial rose party. Mary Elizabeth Rentz and Dorothy Day sang the Alpha Gamma Delta rose song. The house was decorated with cathedral candles, red zinnias and red and yellow dahlias. Ices, in the shape of roses bearing the sorority's colors red, buff, and green, were served.

Alexander-Darragh

Mr. and Mrs. A. Alexander announce the marriage of their daughter, Charlotte Louise, to Mr. Russell Alan Darragh, Saturday, September 24.

The wedding was solemnized at the home of the groom's uncle, Mr.

W. A. Hinton, Flemingsburg, Judge R. B. Hull officiating. Guests included members of the immediate families and Mrs. Flora Cline, Greenup.

The bride is a former student of the university where she was a member of Theta Sigma Tau. The groom, who is now assistant cashier of the National Bluecut Company in Lexington, is a graduate of Henry Clay High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Darragh, Delmar Avenue.

The bride and groom left immediately for a short motor trip, after which they will be at home to their friends at 223 University avenue.

Formal Rose Dinner

Delta Zeta entertained Thursday evening at the chapter house with a formal rose dinner in honor of fifty-five rushees.

The house was artistically decorated with roses, and softly lighted with green and pink candles. An elaborate five-course dinner was served.

A treasure hunt Tuesday and a tour of the Bluegrass Wednesday were features of the sorority's rushing program.

Tea at Maxwell Place

President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey received friends, members of the student body, and faculty members from four to six Wednesday afternoon at their home on the campus.

Tea was served in the sun room by Mrs. H. D. Schieble and Mrs. M. M. Chamberlain, assisted by Misses Kathryn Waddell, Beatrice Phillips, Mary Phillips, Virginia Riddle, Molly Brisker, and Pauline Brisker.

ROAMIN' THE RIALTO

As we return from roaming far afield to stray up and down the local rialto, we are expecting our usual barrage of friendly cheerios and inimitable catcalls. Our greeting was ever thus and we treat it with the contempt bred by familiarity. And we hasten to our task of reporting the week's theatrical cocktail.

At the Ben All starting Sunday is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of "Kongo," with Walter Huston re-enacting the sinister role of "Deadlegs" Flint with which he scored one of his greatest successes on the New York stage. This weird story of voodoo magic, by which a crippled white "king" of a black African empire works a terrifying scheme for revenge, was brought to the screen under the direction of William C. Sullivan. In the cast with Walter Huston are Lupe Velez, Conrad Nagel, Virginia Bruce, and the chimpanzee, Queenie, that won your acclaim in "Tarzan".

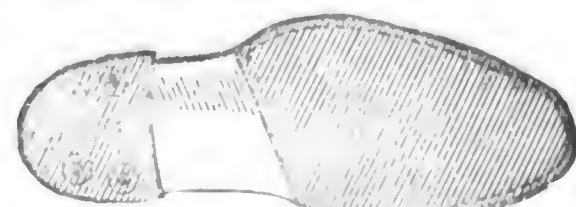

Let those who have tears prepare to shed them now, for "Back Street" will be the feature beginning Saturday at the Kentucky. The more sympathetic who see the screen version of Fannie Hurst's story of lifelong love out of wedlock and the lonely lingering old age of the woman who lived on the "back street" of a man's life will be in their element here. Universal borrowed John Boles from Fox and Irene Dunn from RKO to play the leads in this human and convincing picture, and they rise above their usual excellent level of performance.

At the Strand starting Sunday is Warner Bros. production, "The Purchase Price," the story of a night-club torch singer who married a farmer through a matrimonial agency—and liked it. The star, Barbara Stanwyck, sings her first screen song in this vehicle. George Brent plays the male lead.

The same young man vetoes with finality any urge you may feel to call him "Mr. Ruth Chatterton" as he co-stars with Joan Blondell in "Miss Pinkerton," now playing at the Ben All. The screen version of Mary Roberts Rhinehart's best seller of the same name is a maker of mystery history.

University Student
Dies from Operation

Alfred Rich Caldwell, 19 years of age, Bellevue, Ky., sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences died at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Good Samaritan hospital. Caldwell failed to rally from an appendicectomy operation after pneumonia had set in.

He was a son of Judge A. M. Caldwell of Campbell county and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity. Members of his fraternity attended the funeral services held at 9 a. m. Thursday at Bellevue.

The death of Rich occurred just five hours prior to the burial of his mother, who died Sunday.

University Hi Plays
Nicholasville Today

Although hampered by rainy weather, University High has been working in preparation for their opening game, this afternoon, with Nicholasville. Coach Pete Kemper, when interviewed, would make no comment about his team's chances during the coming season. He stated, however, that the team was as good as last year's outfit and would be in there trying all the time.

There are about 25 men out for the squad, but a number of promising reserves have been uncovered. The big problem this year has been the developing of a center and a quarterback. Among the veterans from last year are C. Hilliard, Longley, and Brookling look particularly good.

unstable condition, but stacks up better than it did in the opener. Kerecheval will be in the lineup, but may play either the tail-back or spin-back positions. Johnson's injured shoulder is rapidly mending, but it may keep him on the sidelines for another game. However, if the coaches feel that his condition warrants it, he will supplant Kerecheval at the tail-back post, with the kicking ace being shifted to Darby's spin-back place. Darby, whose many flashy runs attracted the attention of the fans last week, will take care of the spin-back post if Ellis Johnson is not in shape to be in from the start.

Stanley Bach will again be the choice for the wing-back. Bach's long dash against the Cadets stamped him as one of the best backs on the squad, one who may before the season is past take his place in Kentucky's Hall of Fame with Kelly and Covington.

Tom Cassidy is off the injured list, probably will see service in the game at blocking back. He showed up well in his initial start and is a hard blocker and a good defensive man.

The 'Cats although beset by every kind of misfortune still are favorites to upset the boys from Seewanee by a goodly margin. Seewanee, with the smallest squad in the Southern Conference, has a good team, a team that held the powerful South Carolina Gamecocks to a 7-3 decision last week-end.

The Carolinians were forced to resort to an overhead attack to win, after the Tigers had marched the entire length of the field to score a fieldgoal on a dropkick by Alex Wellford. This game will be a much harder test for the Big Blue than the V.M.I. engagement was, as the visitors have a backfield composed of veteran triple-threat men.

start the game, but Daily is certain to see much service. Three lettermen return to the halfback positions. They are Wellford, McClure and Cravens. Clark, Underwood, Robinson and Hatch are the reserves. Wellford, who is probably the most dependable of the trio, will be a certain starter while the other post is a toss up between McClure and Cravens.

Gee, a junior, will start at fullback, with Rueh serving as the reserve. Gee performed brilliantly last year and gives promise of being one of the best plunging backs in the conference. Rueh, a sophomore, has demonstrated in scrimmages that he is one of the best defensive men of the team and can also hold up his end of the offensive work.

The same thing that handicapped Seewanee last year as in years before, the lack of reserves, will hold true this year, but all in all—the Tigers will give every team a real battle and in the majority of the games, expects to come out on top.

THE CALL OF THE WILD

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Paul Bransom, America's foremost animal painter . . . inspired by the savage struggle between the ferocious wild dog and the vicious wolf . . . as described in Jack London's famous novel of combat against crude nature in the frozen north.

—and raw tobaccos
have no place in cigarettesThey are not present in Luckies
. . . the mildest cigarette
you ever smoked

these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
